Recently, Her Excellency Mrs. Ernestina Naadu Mills, first lady of the Republic of Ghana, toured the Saint Joseph College School of Pharmacy at 229 Trumbull Street in Hartford. She met with SJC President Pamela Trotman Reid, Ph.D. and School of Pharmacy Dean Joseph R. Ofosu, PharmD., R.Ph. who is also a native of Ghana. The visit provided an opportunity for President Reid to share key recent accomplishments, her vision for the future of Saint Joseph College and opportunities for partnerships with Ghanaian Universities. Dr. Ofosu offered the first lady background on the College's innovative three-year modified-block Pharm.D. curriculum which addresses a demonstrated need for skilled pharmacists in our local communities. Saint Joseph College, founded in 1932 by the Sisters of Mercy to provide higher education opportunities for women, is a comprehensive institution serving women from diverse backgrounds and religious traditions. Responsive to the evolving educational needs of the community, the School of Graduate and Professional Studies also offers both women and men graduate degree programs in many fields, a Weekend Program for Adult Learners, professional certificate programs relevant to today's workforce, and other continuing education opportunities. In the fall of 2011, the Saint Joseph College School of Pharmacy, the first doctoral program in the College's 78-year history, will open at Hartford 21 on Trumbull Street in downtown Hartford.
